AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY!

The question naturally arises in the minds of our patrons while visiting this great sale: "Why is it that HALE BROS. are sacrificing their goods in such a manner?" The casual observer, as he or she moves through the different departments of the House, and finds the prices on goods marked down 25, 35, and, in some instances, 50 per cent., remarks: "HALE BROS. must want coin badly to make such enormous sacrifices." True, we want the coin, but did you ever know of an individual or firm to fail who bought and sold exclusively for CASH-

These remains have been found in thirty different localities and in eleven different counties in California. In trying to determine the age of these remains, we must bear in mind that they antedate the present river system of the Sierras. Were we ascertain the number of thousands of years that were required by the present rivers to cut their channels through slate and granite to the great depths they have now attained, we would be able to proximately fix the time when these denizens of the Sierra were in existence. A STATE PRISON AIDS SCIENCE.

The Nevada State Prison is situated at a listance of one and one-half miles from Carson City, the capital of the State of Nevada, and three miles from the base of the Sierras. It lies in a valley which has level. This valley is flanked upon the west by the Sierras, which rise abruptly to the hight of about 2,670 feet above the valley. To the next it is above the raised bouler had been made in the same layer of soft material, and that the raised bouler had been and that valley. To the north it is bounded by the Washoe Range, and upon the east and south by a somewhat elevated range of hills in the Carson desert, through which the Carson river finds its way to what is known as 'the sink of the Carson," The prison was built about twenty years since on the extreme point of a hill having an elevation of about sixty feet. This hill s formed of sandstone, which had its origin in the detritus brought by wind and water from the Sierras. This point was chosen with a view to utilizing the labor of the convicts in quarrying stone for building purposes. As a result of this quarry-

the stone has been removed from an area of about one and three-quarters acres and to a depth varying from fifteen to thirty-two feet, showing the hill to be com-It had been known that animal remains had been discovered in the above named quarry, but no special attention seems to have been called to the fact until the appointment of the present Warden, William Garrard, under whose quick intelligence and by whose energy a systematic effort of these since they could not be of much has been made to collect and preserve these lossils. To determine this fact Mr. Garrard, who was anxious to assist us in every way possible, immediately com-menced a tunnel upon the line of the prints of the same series, if such existed. In this effort he was completely successful, bringing to view four other footprints, three of which were more perfect than those which had been previously exposed. One of the four, owing to a fault in the rock, was too obscure to be of value. Of this series we secured twelve more or less perfect casts in plaster, which are placed before you for inspection this evening. Returning now to our first-described tracks, we find at a distance of ten or twelve paces other tracks, which we suppose to have been made by a mammoth. New York, August 9th.—The Herald says there was exhibited yesterday at the Produce Exchange a specimen of a wheat from the extreme west, that is just coming into prominence for agricultural purposes. It consists of twenty stalks plucked on the 25th of July in Benton county, Or., along the line of the Oregon and Pacific Railroad now building. They are over six feet high, and have heads from six to nine inches in length, all of which are well filled, with the grain and kernels as well. The straw is ex-tremely light in color. It is estimated that the wheat crop of Oregon will this year be one-third larger than has ever been before.

The Experience of the O'Flahertys. LONDON, August 9th. — The O'Flaherty brothers—Mathias of London, and Cornelius of Chicago—recently arrested in Tralee, Ire-land, on suspicion of being concerned in the Phenix Park murders, arrived at London Tuesday. As they were recognized, a hearty cheer went up. The crowd immediately surrounded the brothers, and it was sometime before they could get away. The brothers left here for Ireland a fortnight after the murders; but for fear of being detained they provided themselves with certificates under seal of the Mayor of London, setting forth the date of their departure, and the fact that they were well known and responsible persons. When asked as to what effect this had upon the authorities of Ireland. Cernelius rel'uesday. As they were recognized, a hearty upon the authorities of Ireland, Cernelius re-plied, "You might as well administer castor corporation seals and recommendations to the Tralee police magistrates. KEARNEY'S SPEECH

Men women and friends: I need no intro-luction to a Sacramento audience. Although not my home, it is the home of a great many of my best friends. I like to talk to the workmy best triends. I like to talk to the workingmen of your city. Because when the organization known as the Workingmen's Party of California was struggling for an existence, you men came to the rescue. We elevated and dignified labor by taking a mechanic out of your shops and electing him Mayor of this city. We also, if I mistake not, went into a shop and took another mechanic and elected him City Attorney. I never met either of those parties but once then it was in the night and on a but once then it was in the night and on a public stand. Were I to meet them now I yould not be able to recognize either. The Workingmen's Party was organized on the "Chinese must go" issue. It wrung from the politicians a little bit of ten years legislation

THE CHINESE MUST NOT COME. We have now a law upon the statute books making it a crime to bring any Chinese mechanics or laborers, or Chinamen who work in mining, to this country. All of the ship owners, both sail and steam, have notified to inverte or inverted by water is about the atom and a country. Now, there are a lot of men here who get up a corner on ships, and a country. If the railroad company could, when the Southern Pacific Railroad is completed to their agents and captains not to bring any more Chinese except those who are entitled to come under the bill. For one quarter of a century the politicians and the office seekers used the Chinese question as an issue seekers used the Chinese question as an issue to get into office at every succeeding election. After the election was over the politicians and thair heads over the with the middle over a certain extent, as oysters until the next election came around. Why, it was only last week that a friend of mine told me that an old stump speaker of twenty years' stending in this State told him that the only chance he had of getting along with the people was to lie to n these afrect God! What control was to the control of the country is to hem. Great God! What control of the co of getting along with the people was to lie to them. Great God! What an exalted opin-ion these stump taffy smatterers have of the audiences they address. Their action on the Chinese question corroborates the statement of my friend. These politicians believed in hoodwinking the people. Had we not re-belled against their lying flattery, and kicked over the party traces, we would have no Chinese bill. In all the history of our country's legislation it is the only measure upon its statute books in favor of the working men and working women. The factory lords of New England, who favor a high protective

UNLIMITED COOLIE IMMIGRATION. The man-stealers and the protective-tariff lords opposed the bill with all their might. When fighting for a protective tariff, they are in the habit of sawing the air on the dignity of labor. They tell the workingmen that a law must be passed to protect the products of their labor as against the products of the pauper labor of Europe. But who, let me ask you, has this protective tariff benefited? Only the lordly millionaire manufacturers, as will presently show. Large producers are also large consumers, and when the workingmen go into the market as purchasers for consumption, they have to buy in a protective market. But when they go into the labor market to sell their labor, which is the only commodity they have for sale, they are forced into a competitive market, to com-pete with the slave labor of Asia. And whenever a strike was threatened in any of the large manufacturing establishments, the lordly protective tariff millionaire directors, who opposed the adoption of the anti-Chinese bill, held these Asiatic slaves as a lash over their operatives, by threatening to replace them with Chinese. It was through their efforts that Arthur—whom Guiteau's pistol made President-vetoed the twenty year bill. The workingmen of this country have a rod in pickle for their backs, which will be used to raise welts and draw blood at the proper time. For what we sell, and pay the most for what we buy. All this is due to our remote locaone of the stalwart leaders of the Guiteau wing of the Republican party, introduced a bill to nullify the anti-Chinese bill tnat is now the law of the land. Should California,

To this clique at Washington, labeled Republican, who gave us a stone when we asked for bread, we should, and I trust we will beat that faction. Now that the coming of the Chinese is stopped through the nation's legislation, thanks to the "sand-lot" agitation, the politicians and the twenty-year lying speakers are clargoring, and blowing, and creeching, and yelling, and sawing the air for a reduction in fares and freights. You ask any of them what they mean by a reduc-tion in fares and freights. With a spread-eagle wave of the hand they will evade the glittering generalities. Now, as a matter of fact, the politicians don't want, nor do they care a straw whether freights are lowered or raised. All they want is an opportunity to cinch the corporation. These politicians are backed by sheets who live by blackmail. It is only when an election is to be held that by any manner of means, go Republican this fall, the anti-Chinese bill will be repealed.

the stink-pot batteries of THESE BLACKMAILERS Are opened at the railroad company. Blatherskites and blackmailers are not competent to discuss intelligently the question of fares and freights. Stoneman, who has given the question some thought, admits that the only solution is governmental control. The Legislature of our State grappled with fares and freights for years, and were never able to agree upon a schedule that would satisfy all parts of the State on account of the greed, selfishness and conflicting interests of the different localities. For example, your representatives from this city would, to catch the profit monger's vote, favor and work for a bill that would establish cheap rates from Sacramento away into the interior and high from San Francisco into the interior, so that the country merchants would buy all their goods at Sacramento. Again, Stockton's repesentatives would like to have the rates heaper from Stockton into the interior than acramento, so that their merchants could deal with the country merchants; and of erse San Francisco's representatives would like to have the rates cheaper from San Francisco than any other part of the State into the interior, so that the merchants of San Franeisco could trade with the country merchants. In short, every man who wants regulation asks for regulation that would

BE A DISCRIMINATION favor of himself, or in favor of his locality. Nobody complains any of large freights, however high they may be, which operate to protect the trade of his town or of his own business. The man producing lumber in the mountains is perfectly willing that the towns and cities of the valley should be low, and he would be very glad to pay the poli-ticians for lobbying a bill through the Legislature to that effect, and would pay if the rate on lumber from the seaboard to those same towns and cities should be high, because this would give him an advantage in the market. He would get the benefit of the cheap rate from his sawmill to the market, while the high rate would keep the lumber produced on the seaboard out of that market, d thus give him a monopoly of it. Nearly all the trouble in adjusting a freight rate in ills that have been before the Legislature of this State has grown out of the conflic's be-tween the different localities in this regard. Each particular interest wanted the freight low on the kind of goods it had to ship, and by on the kind of goods to nat to simp, and put up high on other kinds of goods, so that the great burden of supporting a system of transportation in the State would be borne by some article in which a particular individnal did not deal, or which he did not sell. If every town in this State were left free to establish their rates to suit themselves, there would be high rates to every other town, and exceedingly low rates to and from the town that had the say in the matter. Again the THE AGRICULTURAL DISTRICTS Wanted a low rate on the products of their neighbors, who, in turn, were antagonized by the representatives from the mercan-

Whether the men that are running for Railroad Commissioners are going to consider their rights in the premises. They also should exact a pledge from the candidates for Railroad Could, if he wanted to, change the tune of the their rights in the premises. They also should exact a pledge from the candidates for Railroad Commissioners that if elected, and they agree to a reduction in fares and freights, such reduction would not either lower their pay or lengthen their hours of labor. I am in favor of a high rate on imports and a low rate cn exports. This is true protection, as a low export rate on the raw products of the country will give prosperity, because it will increase the profit of production. But who gets the advantage on a low rate on merchandise to the interior? The man who deals largely in boots and shoes brings them to his store by the ton. Now if he might get a low rate it would amount to probably thousands of dellars profit to him, but when he comes of the want and the enemy of monopoly, is in the opinion of the majority of the people of this State.

Some people have cheek enough for anything. Irwin, the gag-law ex-Governor of this State, is, I am told, an anti-monopolist. In office he was a monopolist; out of office, and wanting to get in, he is an anti-monopolist. He feels sore because the San Jose Convention ignored him entirely, as they had a right to do, and, like all other soreheads, he gave vent to his soreness by an attack upon the railrate it would amount to probably thousands of dollars profit to him, but when he comes to sell one pair of shoes to a man, the difference being only a few cents on the rate chargeable to that pair of shoes, would he GIVE THE POOR MAN THE ADVANTAGE Of that low rate of freight? We will supcose a case for example. We will suppose that the freight to a certain store is $10 a that the freight to a certain store is $10 a ton, and a merchant imports a ton of shoes. My shoes weigh a pound; at that rate the freight on my shoes would be helf a cent. Would I, who buy these shoes, get the benefit of this? Or course not. It wouldn't make any difference; but the man who imports a ton would receive the benefit. How, then, would this operate against the men who run the road? Would it tend to lengthen their hours of labor and decrease their pay? The profit of the transaction would go to the profit of the transac

Dennis Kearney Speaks for Stoneman and Explains the Freight and Fare Question.

Dennis Kearney addressed a mass meeting of several hundred at the corneriof Third and K streets last evening. He spoke for nearly two hours, and held the vast audience during the entire address. He was frequently interrupted by storms of applause. Mr. Kearney's speech, with the exception of a few immaterial condensations, is presented just as he delivered it:

HIS IDEAS OF LABOR AND TEANSPORTATION.

One of the leading expenses of transportation. One for the leading expenses of transportation. One of the leading expenses of transportation. Dennis Kearney addressed a mass meeting of transportation pour must necessarily reduce the earnings of labor, and what you are doing when you reduce the freight rates on merchandise is to increase the profits of the profit. It is not right to attack Stanford & Co. while we are willing to uphoid the system of transportation, and I will not champion any movement nor favor any man that will tend to decrease the wages of labor or lengthen its hours. But to return to the raw products of the State. The price of wheat at any station in California is the price of Liverpool less the cost of getting the wheat to that port, and a low rate of freight makes a high rate of Leaguer threatening to evict his tenants. Listen while I give you the Irish World's editorial on the subject:

Last week we multished the corneration of the subject:

Last week we multished the corneration of the subject:

Last week we multished the corneration is glover mental toon is labor, and if you reduce the earnings of the bearings in mind that the only solution to the railroad question is gevernmental control. It is not right to outself the outself of the systems of the labor of the subject to the railroad.

Co. while we are willing to uphoid the

the cost of getting the wheat to that port, and a low rate of freight makes a high rate of wheat in this country. A low rate on wool makes a higher price on wool. The freight charged against the wool for transportation is the loss of the producer of the wool. It is therefore plain that a low rate of transportation on wheat and wool and cattle and live stock generally will enhance the profit of the producer of these articles, and by enhancing the profits of its production, will enhance the value of the property. There are hundreds of small farmers throughout this State who have mortgaged their places, and who are struggling to pay for them, who will be better enabled to do so if low rates upon the raw products of the country can be obtained, and this is the effort that should be made, and it can be accomplished much sooner by bringing about a perfectly good understanding between the transporter and the producer, and it never can be accomplished by keeping these two interests at war. I notice that the freight from here to Liverpool by water is about $20 a tor. Now, there are a lot of men here who get up a corner on ships, and a corne ing to do with the question under discussion.

Whether a landlord is a Catholic priest or a Grand

Stanford and his associates co-operated together, obtained certain franchises, built railroads, etc. As Directors of a corporation they claim the right to make all the money they can for their stockholders. Surely nobody will deny them that right. We cannot prevent their taking advantage of the principles of coprice, and thus make a profit on the tonnage as well as upon the advancing price of the operation. But we can appraise their property, buy it, and run it in our own interest.

As it is now, we ship wool and dirt to the East, and we pay the freight, by reason and M, to go into a saloon near by, and while team standing on Front street, between L of the low prices we get. Then we import woolen goods, which, as a high-priced article, bears a high freight rate, and we pay that. Why, thousands of tons of St. Louis and Milwaukee beer are imported into this State at high rates. We raise the barley and hops and ship them East, and the fellows in St. Louis and Milwaukee add water, and we pay transportation on that back again—at least truck a pile of lumber. Let St. Louis or Milwaukee send us a beer-making missionary to teach us the fine art of making that kind of rotgut, and we could quit whining over the freight rate on St. Louis water. This, my riends, is a question the discussion and solu-ion of which must not be left to the selfish profit-mongers nor shyster lawyers. The producers and transporters must solve this quesion. Stanford & Co. are not running a railroad for the fun of the thing. On the contrary, they are running a railroad to make money. Their lot is no easy one. I would not change positions with Leland Stanford to-day. I expect he is the hardest worked are not much better than mine. He does not digest the food that he eats as good as you and I digest what we eat. He will not live many years longer; in fact, none of these men will. Then all of their accumu-lations will be scattered to the four winds of heaven. These are truths that will not hurt anybody to tell them. The man who wants to get into a position so as to be able to sell his influence to Stanford & Co., will turn up his nose at this kind of talk. He sees nothing in it for him, and he will say, "D—n that fellow Kearney; I wish he would give Stanford h—, and help to elect me; then I could sell to Stanford," as you know nearly all of them do. A BLACKMAIL SCHEME. And because I refused, the stink pot batteries of that vile pecurrilous publication, the Chronicle, was opened on me which resulted in the Honorable Bilk movement. The blackmailers were beaten at the polls. It did not however, prevent them from masquerading as reformers. You all remember how solicitious John H. Burke, the Secretary of the H. B.'s, felt about the pretended wrongs of the poor Con Virginia and California stockholders. He worried, too, over the unequal burdens of taxation. He lectured before the Grangers and with other subjects battled with the Courts. All of a sudder they disappeared from the public gaze, and eft for parts unknown. Kearney here gave his reasons for his belief as to the motive that led to this silence, and they were "hard hits." He also called at-tention to the sudden silence of A. A. Cohen, and gave what he believed to be the reasons therefor. But that which makes most people

Strangers in the city are invited to visit our stores. We are at all times ready to show them about, to answer their questions, and in every way to give them a full understanding of our business, and the work it is accomplishing. It is a place where goods of nearly every kind are kept; where no faults are concealed, nothing misrepresented, and but one price asked or taken for any article. It is an establishment containing a larger variety of goods—from coarse to fine, from staple to luxurious—than can be found under any other one roof within a thousand miles. It is a place marked by just and liberal dealing—by prodigality of benefits. We are glad to say our good can and does extend outside of Sacramento; that it is perfectly practical to deal with us through the mails. For this purpose we have a Catalogue, with over eight hundred illustrations, which, together with Samples, is sent free on application, and when orders come they are filled with care, speed and discretion. We cannot undertake to guess how much out-of-town customers can save in thus dealing with large city merchants, to say nothing of the satisfaction derived from getting the freshest goods and newest styles.
